

Effective Faith-Based Advocacy on Capitol Hill: a Unitarian Universalists for Social Justice (UUSJ) Program

Saturday, May 4, 2:00-3:30

Mt. Vernon Unitarian Church

1909 Windmill Lane, Alexandria VA, 22307

Join UUs for Social Justice in the National Capital Region (UUSJ) for a presentation on and discussion of "Effective Faith-Based Advocacy on Capitol Hill." Our speaker will be Jose Arguto, Legislative Secretary on Sustainable Energy and Environment for the Friends Committee on National Legislation (FCNL). FCNL has built a very high reputation for principled religious advocacy over its sixty-five years of experience in the nation's capital. They have learned important lessons to share and set a high standard in listening and building trust across differences of opinion. The presentation will cover both FCNL's general principles of advocacy and their specific application to the area of climate change, where FCNL is initiating a major new strategy.

Registration (free) and information at info@uusj.org, www.uusj.org, 202-600-9132.