OVS Program of Metro TeenAIDS

The OVS Program of Metro TeenAIDS provides free individual and group therapy sessions to LGBTQ youth and young adults whom have been victims of crime. Metro TeenAIDS is able to provide this service through a grant from DC's Office of Victims Services.

The program is completely voluntary and partners with clients to meet their own individual needs. Clinicians within this program are experienced both in working with the LGBTQ community and providing trauma-informed treatment and care.

Sessions can be held in clinical space at Metro TeenAIDS' office, at your agency, or within the community. One of the goals of this program is to eliminate as many barriers to accessing services as possible. Metro TeenAIDS will work with agencies to meet the specific needs of prospective clients (i.e. groups, individual, location, timing).

For further information about this program, to discuss partnerships between your agency and Metro TeenAIDS, or to make a referral, please use the contact below.
