

LOVE OVER HATE:

RALLY TO CHALLENGE WHITE SUPREMACY

Sunday, August 20, 3 PM

Cedar Lane Unitarian Universalist Church
9601 Cedar Lane, Bethesda MD 20814

Last weekend, armed and organized white supremacists descended on Charlottesville, Virginia to promote racist, anti-Semitic, anti-Muslim & xenophobic ideologies, and perpetrated deadly attacks against those who challenged hatred. We mourn the loss of Heather Heyer, the two Virginia State Officers and grieve for all those who were affected by the lost their lives and were injured in the attacks.

Join us for an interfaith rally of resistance to hatred and to:

- Say NO to ALL systems of white supremacy.
- Call on all elected officials to explicitly and publicly condemn white supremacy and the organizations that advance and seek to give it mainstream credibility.
- Call on elected leaders to uphold our cherished values of inclusion and the worth and dignity of every person.
- Demand that Steve Bannon and other supporters of white supremacy, who are in the administration, resign or be fired.
- Say YES to Love over Hate

Join diverse clergy, elected officials, social justice communities, and people of moral conscience across DC, MD, VA region as we call people to faithful resistance and action.

Endorsed by: Faith Strategies, Cedar Lane Unitarian Universalist Church, Spirit of Love and Deliverance Baptist Church, Plymouth Congregational United Church of Christ, Florida Avenue Baptist Church, Rev. Dr. Earl Trent, Pennsylvania Avenue Baptist Church, Rev. Dr. Kendrick Curry, River Road Unitarian Universalist Church, Fellowship Baptist Church, Christ Congregational UCC, International Socialist Organization, The Progressive National Baptist Convention, The Eastern Region, Rev. Keith Byrd, President, The Baptist Convention of DC and Vicinity, Rev. A.C. Durant, President, DC United Against Hate
CODEPINK

Contacts: Rev. Graylan Scott Hagler, 202-723-5330 or 202-302-0307
Rev. Abhi Janamanchi, 727.667.3398 or 301.493.8300 X 203